Provider Professionalism

As a provider, it is never an acceptable practice to “recruit” people for your own benefit. A level of professionalism should be maintained and if the person is experiencing a situation where they would like a new provider (of their own accord) the Free Choice of Provider system is in place and the SSA will assist the person with this matter.

At no time should you, as a provider, try and sway someone to have you work with them instead of their existing provider.
