

Are you the person I'm looking for?

I am a 31 year old male who lives in Findlay, OH

I need a provider to help me with:

Expanding my social circle in the community. Id like to expand my knowledge of technology becoming more independent in using the computer and using social media. Id like to utilize technology to make new friends or find a relationship. I need information on how to meet and build a healthy romantic relationship. I would benefit from life skills and looking for new jobs as well.

Some of the things that are important to me are:

My physical health, exercise, participating in local sports teams, spending time with friends and family, keeping up with my Cleveland sports, working, finding a romantic relationship, and meeting new people.

Some of the things that are important for me are:

Working, my friends and family, staying active, participating the community, and building my social circle.

Who?

Trustworthy and reliable peer support. I am looking for a provider who will stay active with me and participate in activities I enjoy. I need someone who is tech savvy and can show me how to use apps, computers, etc. to expand my social circle and maybe find a relationship. I need someone that understands that I am very independent and rather looking for a friend who can motivate me new ways to stay active in my community.

What?

Level One Waiver. Once a week to start and will discuss a schedule that works around my work schedule. Up to 4 hours a week/20 hours a month of HPC available.

How?

I am extremely independent and do not need supervision or much assistance. I do not have any risks but may need to talk about internet safety.

When?

ASAP

Interested?
